Course Description:

Discover online data collection techniques, interpret the data to effect change in the online classroom, and develop a research plan that integrates e-learning technology and supports teacher research.

Key Outcomes:

- Understand action research and how it applies in the classroom.
- Collect and analyze data to determine correlations and effect possible solutions.
- Conduct guided practice of an action research project.
- Apply action research to accommodate specific classroom needs.

Sample Assessments:

Assessment 8-A-1: Outlining Your Action Research Report

1. Review action research examples from “2-B-1: Your Action Research Setting.”
2. In a Word document, outline your project using the typical report structure found in “Module 8 Topic A: Key Information.”
3. Write an outline only. You will submit the full report in “Activity 8-D-2.”

Assessment 8-D-2: Your Action Research Report

1. Post your action research report as a Word document to “Assignments 8-D-2: Your Action Research Report.”

Alignment to Standards:

This course aligns to INTASC, NBPTS, and Charlotte Danielson’s Framework for Teaching components 1A, 1D, 2B, 4A, 4E, and 4F.

Dear Educator,

PLS 3rd Learning has been committed to the educational community since 1969. Dedicated to supporting teacher effectiveness in K-12 schools, we have impacted the daily practice of more than a half million educators to date. Our graduate level and professional development courses—which are designed and delivered by experienced educators—are rooted in research-based practices, vigorous coursework, and relevant technologies.

Courses are robust, well-researched, and structured.

Our reference library features resources from well over 100 experts in education, and our courses cite a wide variety of published works in educational theory and design. Individual courses have specific time requirements, durations, assignments, threaded discussion posts, and other forms of participation due by the end of each module. Most classwork is asynchronous, allowing flexibility for online students. Maintaining a routine schedule enriches discussion and interaction.

Each course is led by an experienced educator.

Our course instructors have firsthand experience working with superintendents, administrators, teachers, and students. As qualified content experts and course facilitators for online community and collaboration, each instructor oversees the entire learning experience; connects with participants through class discussions, private messages, and synchronous chats; provides timely, meaningful feedback after each assignment; and is required to be present and active at least once every 24 hours (although most are online often throughout the day).

Assignments revolve around a community of learners.

Typical assignments include small and large group class discussions, collaborative projects, and job-embedded activities. In most instances, assignments require participants to make meaningful contributions to the online class community. Instructors read every discussion and response, adding questions and comments to guide participants toward deeper insights and awareness. Other learning activities are submitted privately to the facilitator for further feedback and grading.

Today's K-12 educators face unprecedented pressure from politicians, taxpayers, and parents to boost student performance with fewer resources. PLS 3rd Learning understands this pressure and is well-prepared to support your team with time-tested, research-based, and highly engaging professional development and graduate courses. We would welcome the opportunity to learn how we might contribute to your continued success.
